■ Good morning. I am Tomas. You are late.

○ Late? It is only five to nine.

■ Work starts at nine. I come at quarter to nine every day.

○ Quarter to nine? That early? Every day?

○ Wait. I know you from the café. Table three!

■ And you are my new colleague. You live in number seven, with the cat.

○ Yes. But Måns is not mine.

A bright office with two desks side by side, one of them perfectly tidy.

He writes your new email address on a yellow note and sticks it exactly in the middle of your screen.

■ Here is your desk. The computer is by the window. I sit next to you.

■ I need your surname for the email address. Please spell it.

○ Becker. B, E, C, K, E, R.

■ Good. It is becker@bjorkby.example. I write it down here.

○ Until what time do we work?

■ From nine until half past five. Lunch break is thirty minutes.

○ So eight hours of work?

■ Exactly. Eight hours of work and thirty minutes of break.

He picks something off your jacket on the back of your chair and stares at it.

■ What is this? A grey hair. From Måns?

○ Yes. Sorry, Tomas.

■ Then one metre of distance, please.

While he sets up your email address, he sees a grey hair on your jacket. "Is this... a cat hair?" He moves his desk one metre away. He measures it.
