Translation

■ Come in, sit down. Where does it hurt?

You don't know the word, so you point at your throat.

○ Here. What do you call it in Hindi?

■ Throat. Your throat hurts. Since when?

○ Since Saturday. On Friday I was at rehearsal. It was raining.

■ Open your mouth. Say ah.

○ Ah...

■ Breathe deeply. Again. Does your back hurt? Your ear?

☐ Not my back. My ear a little.

She takes your temperature.

■ Thirty-seven point five. A slight fever.

☐ Is that bad?

■ Not very. How many hours do you sleep?

☐ Few. The trumpet plays at night.

She sighs.

■ I know that trumpet.

■ You are not very ill. You are tired. Hungry too.

☐ Meera said that about Moti. He is not bad. Just hungry.

■ My daughter is always right.

■ Rest. Drink water. Tea three times a day. Eat fruit and vegetables. Get throat medicine at the pharmacy.

☐ The festival is on Saturday. May I go?

■ Rest until Saturday. Then yes.

She listens, looks, and smiles. "You are not very sick. You are tired. And hungry." It is what मीरा said about the cat on your first morning. Her prescription: sleep, tea, and no trumpet after ten at night. For once you like a prescription.
