Translation

Friday afternoon. Tonio stands by the office kitchen with a sheet of paper.

■ Friday, sixteen hundred. Cat check.

○ Ċikku is here. He's come every day since Wednesday.

He looks at you over his glasses.

■ And he's never late. Not like somebody...

■ Here's my notice. It's for the kitchen wall.

You read it aloud.

○ 'Rules for the office cat. One: come at nine. Two: eat at twelve and at five.'

○ 'Three: don't sit on the computers. Four: never, ever on the printer!'

He looks at Ċikku, who is fast asleep on the printer.

■ Rule four is very important.

○ How many times does he eat? Often?

■ Not often. Only twice a day.

○ And what does he do in the afternoon?

■ Nothing. He sleeps, like you.

○ I don't sleep! I work!

■ Now write a message to everyone, please.

You type the message.

○ 'Hello, everyone! There's a cat in the office now. Please read the rules on the kitchen wall. And don't be afraid!'

■ Good. And there's the seventh rule too.

○ The seventh? And the fifth and the sixth?

■ There's nothing there yet. Seven: every Friday, the cat sits on my chair.

○ On your chair?

Ċikku is already on his chair. Tonio strokes him, carefully, with one finger.

■ Yes. And today is Friday. But don't tell anyone!

The rules go on: the cat comes at nine, eats at twelve, does not sit on computers. Rule 7: "On Fridays, the cat sits on my chair." He is already stroking him.
