■ For me, this is morning. I just woke up.

■ Dr Wan knows you're sick. How are you now?

○ A little better than this morning.

○ But I need to find something for my throat. The pharmacy closes at six.

■ Let's go. It's a ten-minute walk.

17:58. The pharmacist is already holding his keys.

▲ Hello. We close at six. What do you need?

○ Hello. I have a sore throat. I need something for it.

▲ Here. Lozenges. I'll explain how to use them.

○ How do I take them?

▲ Let them dissolve slowly in your mouth. For the exact amount, look at the label.

○ Please show me. How much is it?

▲ Sure. Here. One box is 99 baht.

Non quickly puts something small on the counter.

▲ Anything else?

■ Yes, this too, please.

▲ Here you are. The shop is closed now.

■ Here's a gift. Use it at night.

○ Earplugs? What are they?

■ For your ears, because I really like playing the trumpet at night.

○ Thanks, Non. Now I can probably sleep.

■ And I can play. Good night.

At the till he buys something too, and gives it to you outside:
earplugs. "For the night. Sorry about the trumpet." That night you hear nothing and sleep twelve hours.
