LEARNING GOAL

I can say what colour and size things are, and where they are in a room.

Lena (Lukas) = ■ Jack = O

There's a big yellow sofa in the bathroom. A red lamp is here too.

- What is this? A sofa in the bathroom? It isn't mine. The lamp is not mine either.
- Hello, Jack. Sorry. Do you have a yellow sofa?

You go upstairs and knock. Jack opens the door, half asleep.

He turns round and looks into his room.

○ Yes. It's in my room. Wait! Where is my sofa?

■ At my place. In the bathroom.

Jack runs downstairs in his slippers.

In your bathroom, Jack stares at the sofa and the red lamp, confused.

○ It really is mine!

■ Is the red lamp yours too?

○ No. Mine is small and green.

■ So whose is it?

○ I don't know.

○ It's too big. The door is small.

■ The window too.

Jack sits down on the sofa and stretches out.

○ All right. The sofa stays here. Milo is already under the sofa.

■ Here? In the bathroom?

Describing objects

Plural means more than one: two windows. An adjective normally comes before a noun: a yellow sofa, a small window. It can follow be: The sofa is yellow. It does not change for a male or female owner, a thing, or a plural noun.

With two descriptions put size before colour: a big yellow sofa. Say two small windows, not a plural adjective ending. Articles depend on the following sound: a red lamp, an old wardrobe.

Use too before an adjective for an excessive degree: too big, too small. This is different from very big, which simply describes a high degree.
