Translation

Lotte opens the fridge. The shelves are bare.

- The fridge is empty again!
- I know. I do not have time to shop right now.
- Then let us go together now. I have a list.
- Me too: six eggs, bread and apples. What is on your list?
- Fish, milk and even more fish.
- Why so much fish?
- For Mikesch. He likes eating fish.

Lotte waves to Herr Haddad behind the counter.

- Hello, Mr Haddad! This is Lena, my new neighbour.
- ▲ Nice to meet you. What would you like?
- Six eggs, bread and apples, please.
- ▲ The eggs and the bread. Here you are. How many apples would you like?
- Six.

Lotte drops apples into a bag and counts on her fingers.

■ Sixteen? Or seventeen? Eighteen is good too!

○ No, Lotte. Six. Not eighteen.

■ Nineteen, then?

○ All right. We will take nineteen.

■ And fish, please. Lots of fish. And milk.

▲ Is all that for the cat?

■ Yes. Do you know Mikesch?

▲ Of course. Everyone here knows him. He is the boss.

▲ That comes to twenty-two euros.

○ Ten, twenty ... Sorry, I only have twenty euros with me.

Lotte puts two coins on the counter, one by one.

■ Here are two more.

○ Thank you, Lotte.

■ You are welcome. In return I get a pancake later, yes?

Lotte carries the fish in both arms, very pleased with herself. In your bag: six eggs, bread and nineteen apples.
