Translation

■ Jack, how old are you?

○ Twenty-eight. Why?

■ Just asking.

▲ Hello! What are you two looking for?

○ A present for Nicky. She turns ten on Saturday.

The old woman holds up a small grey toy cat.

She looks at Jack over her glasses.

▲ A toy? A little cat?

○ She already has a real cat.

▲ From number seven? Or paints?

○ She has lots of paints. She draws every day.

■ What about a sketchbook?

○ Good idea. She doesn't have one yet.

She puts two sketchbooks on the counter, a big one and a small one.

▲ Large or small? Blue, green or yellow?

○ Yellow. Nicky likes it.

■ How much is a large one?

▲ Twenty-eight pounds. And a small one twelve.

■ The small one is too small. She draws a lot.

○ Then the large one. Fourteen pounds each.

The old woman takes off her glasses and stares at Jack.

Jack turns red, pays very fast and pulls you to the door.

▲ Jack! The little boy with the trumpet from number seven! You were under my window every day!

○ Hello, Ms Stella. Here is the money. Thank you, goodbye!

■ The little boy? Jack?

○ I don't talk about that.

Out on the street, Jack walks very fast, with the yellow sketchbook under his arm. His ears are still red.
