Translation

■ You're wet again!

○ There's a storm outside. My clothes are wet, my shoes too.

■ And where's your umbrella?

○ At the office. In the morning it was sunny.

■ In the morning it's always sunny.

■ And the yellow jacket?

○ Wet too. It's warm, but it isn't a raincoat.

■ A jacket is for the cold, not for the rain. You need a raincoat.

She goes to the cupboard on the landing and comes back with an old green raincoat.

■ Wait.

■ My old raincoat. Put it on.

○ It's dry! And very warm.

■ It suits you. Better than the yellow jacket.

○ Thank you. How old is it?

■ Forty. It's older than you.

○ What's this in the pocket? A key. Old and heavy.

You read the old paper label on it.

○ 'Attic.' The attic key?

■ Keep it.

○ Why me?

■ Because you're one of number 7 now.

○ And what's in the attic?

■ Old things. Lots of old things.

○ Atishoo!

■ There you go. Tea and bed. Now!

○ But tomorrow there's a rehearsal...

■ Tomorrow you must stay in bed. All day.

○ Yes, Mrs Nováková.

■ And now I'll bring you some tea.

Marie brings an old green raincoat from the cupboard. "My old raincoat. Put it on. It suits you." In the pocket is a heavy old key with a label: "Attic". "Keep it. You are one of number 7 now." You sneeze. In bed with your tea, you see Mourek sitting by the key, staring at it for a long time.
