

SCENE 13 • NUMBER 7

Pöydän kolme asiakas

Early morning in the café. At the same minute every day, a neat man in a blue shirt comes in and walks to the table by the window. Sanna nods at him and whispers. His usual order is tea without sugar, one bread roll and the bill. You copy that order exactly; coffee is mentioned only while asking about the menu prices.

Translation

■ There's a guest at table three. He comes every morning.

○ What about table one?

■ It's in your kitchen now.

He checks under the table, sits down and orders without a look at the menu.

▲ A tea without sugar, a roll and the bill, please.

■ Of course.

○ The menu, please. How much is a coffee?

■ Two euros thirty. Tea one euro fifty. A roll sixty cents. Cake three euros.

○ A tea without sugar, a roll and the bill, please.

■ The bill already? You do not have anything yet! Two euros ten altogether.

Nöpö jumps onto the man's table and grabs his pen.

He climbs up onto his chair.

He drops the exact money on the table and hurries to the door.

▲ A cat! No! The bill, quickly!

■ Two euros ten.

▲ Here you are. Thank you. Goodbye!

■ He's afraid of cats.

○ What is his name?

■ We call him Tea without sugar.

○ What about his pen?

■ Nöpö has it now.

Under table 3, Nöpö lies on his back with the pen between his paws. On the table: the exact money, to the cent.
