Saturday evening on the market square: stalls, lights, pancakes. Sun, then rain, then sun again, and you are in Leena's old raincoat. You are at the café stand, and you are the cat's minder. The concert will start at eight. Then Jaan runs up: his mouthpiece is gone. And where is the cat?

Translation

■ Coffee is two euros, pancakes three. You'll take the money, and I'll do the cooking.

○ All right. And where's Muri? I have to look after him.

■ Under the table. He'll sleep until the concert.

Leena comes past the stall with her handbag.

▲ Good evening! Well, how's the weather?

○ Just as Toomas said: sun in the morning, then rain.

▲ Later there'll be a strong wind. And maybe snow.

○ No, no! There won't be any snow today.

▲ The concert will start at eight. Jaan will play first.

▲ I will sit on the bench in front of the stage.

▲ Liis will sing with the children. And Toomas will dance.

○ Toomas will dance? Really?

▲ He says he won't dance. But he will.

Ten to eight. Jaan runs up with his trumpet, white as a sheet.

● Help! My mouthpiece! It's gone!

- Mouthpiece? What's that?
- A little thing, right here. I can't play without it.
- Where did you put it?

You look under the table. No cat.

- On your stall, by the coffee. Ten minutes ago.
- By our coffee? And where's Muri?
- The concert starts in ten minutes. What am I going to do?

Leena opens her handbag and takes out a small old trumpet.

▲ Wait.

- My first trumpet! From the photo!

▲ I kept it. For eighteen years.

- Thank you, Mrs Tamm. Tonight I'll play for you.

○ And I'll find Muri.

Leena opens her handbag and takes out a small old trumpet: the one from the photo. "I kept it." At eight Jaan plays it and the whole square listens. At 20:14, in the middle of the first song, all the lights go out.
