Translation

■ Here is the market. Saturdays from seven to one. I need ten kilos of apples.

○ Ten kilos? A lot!

■ For apple cake. What do you need?

○ Tomatoes, potatoes, milk and cheese. Today I'm cooking at home.

▲ Good morning. What would you like?

○ A kilo of tomatoes and two kilos of potatoes, please.

▲ Anything else?

○ Half a kilo of cheese and a bottle of milk.

▲ Here you are. Twelve pounds and fifty pence.

● Good morning. Do you live in number seven?

○ Yes. How do you know?

He unrolls a very long bill.

● Cat hairs on your jacket! Milo comes every Saturday. Here is his bill for this month.

○ But he is not mine! So much fish? How much does it all cost?

- Forty-two pounds.

May laughs and takes out her purse.

- You pay nothing. I pay. Every month.

- Why do you pay?

- Milo sits in the café window. People see him and come in. Good for business.

The fish seller stops you. "Number 7? Here is Milo's bill for the whole month." A very long bill, 42 euros. May laughs and pays. "Every month." Milo sits in her window every morning, and people come in to look at him.
