Translation

■ Good afternoon. Doctor Lucía. It is your turn now.

○ Good afternoon, Doctor.

■ And this is Michi. My nurse.

○ Are you a doctor already?

■ Not yet. I am practising. My mother is a doctor.

■ Let us see. What hurts?

○ My throat. But it is better now.

She leans in and shines a toy torch at you, very seriously.

■ Open your mouth. Say ah.

○ Ah.

She frowns at a big toy thermometer. Michi, in a little nurse's cap, looks too.

■ Good. You have no fever.

○ Is that good?

■ Very good.

■ How many hours do you sleep now?

○ Twelve. With earplugs. From Javier.

■ Twelve! Nearly as much as Michi!

She writes slowly in a small notebook.

■ Here is my prescription.

■ One: pancakes. Two: Michi on your legs.

■ And on Saturday you come to the festival.

○ But Tomás says: no cats in bed.

■ My prescription is more important than his list.

Elvira comes in with a plate of pancakes. Lucía nods like a doctor.

▲ Here are the pancakes. As the prescription says.

○ Thank you, Mrs Martín. And thank you, Doctor.

She asks very seriously.

▲ Can the patient eat, Doctor?

■ Yes. Three pancakes. No more.

■ That is all. Goodbye!

Her prescription: "Pancakes, three times a day. Cat on feet. Festival: Saturday. YOU MUST COME." Elvira brings the {@pancakes}. Next morning you feel better. The toy thermometer is gone.
