Translation

■ Good morning!

○ Good morning? It is half past five in the afternoon!

■ For me it is morning. I am getting up now.

■ Elvira says you are ill. How are you?

- A little better than this morning.
- I need something for my throat. The pharmacy closes at six.
- Let us go. It is ten minutes on foot.

Two minutes to six. Herr Sharma already has the keys in his hand.

- ▲ Good evening. We close at six. What do you need?
- Good evening, Andrés. Something for a sore throat.
- ▲ We have these lozenges. I will explain how to take them.
- How do I take them?
- ▲ Let them dissolve slowly in your mouth. The amount is in the leaflet.
- Can you show it to me? And how much are they?
- ▲ Of course. Here. The box costs nine euros ninety.
- ▲ Anything else?

Javier slips a tiny packet onto the counter.

- Yes. This, please.
- ▲ Here you are. Now we are closing.
- Here. For the night.

○ Earplugs? What are they?

■ For your ears. Because of my trumpet. I like playing at night.

○ Thank you, Javier. Now I can sleep!

■ And I can play. Good night!

*At the till he buys something too, and gives it to you outside:
earplugs. "For the night. Sorry about the trumpet." That night you hear nothing and sleep twelve hours.*
