Translation

Tuesday evening. You write a message to everyone at number 7, and to Tomas.

- 'Dear neighbours and Tomas! Thank you for everything. On Saturday, at seven in the evening, I'm inviting you to dinner. At my place.'

- 'There'll be soup, pancakes and cake. I'm cooking myself!'

The first answer comes after one minute.

- 'Sorry, I won't be able to. On Saturday I have to: one, wash the windows; two, buy paper; three, something else.'

- Three jobs on a Saturday evening? And what is this 'something', Tomas?

- ▲ 'On Saturday I'm working all evening. Maybe another time?'

- 'I have to ask Grandma!!!'

- All right. I'll ask Ona myself.

You knock on Ona's door. Behind it someone whispers. Then nothing.

- Mrs Ona? Are you at home?

- On Saturday there's dinner at my place. Will you come?

- Mrs Ona, the walls in this house are thin. I can hear you.

The door stays shut. Micius walks past you and down the stairs without looking at you.

- You too, Micius? Are you busy too?

Jonas comes down and sits next to you on the stairs.

- Everyone's busy? I can't come either. I'm playing on Saturday.

- Everyone. Nobody can come on Saturday.

- You really want to leave?

- I don't know. Maybe I'll go to the capital. There's a very good job there.

- I left number 7 once too. I was eighteen.

- And?

A long pause.

- And I came back.

- Why did you come back?

- There are lots of people in the capital. But nobody there knows your name.

Everyone is busy on Saturday. Even Micius walks away. Only Jonas sits down on the stairs with you: "I left number 7 too, at eighteen. I came back."
