

SCENE 13 • NUMBER 7

Manden ved bord tre

Early morning in the café. At the same minute every day, a neat man in a blue shirt comes in and walks to the table by the window. Sofie nods at him and whispers. His usual order is tea without sugar, one bread roll and the bill. You copy that order exactly; coffee is mentioned only while asking about the menu prices.

Translation

■ There is a customer at table three. He comes every morning.

○ And table one?

■ It is in your kitchen now.

He checks under the table, sits down and orders without a look at the menu.

▲ A tea without sugar, a small bread roll and the bill, please.

■ Yes, of course.

○ The menu, please.

■ Of course. The prices are down here.

○ How much is a coffee?

■ Coffee costs thirty-two kroner. Tea fifteen, a roll twelve, and cake thirty-five kroner.

○ Good. I will order now.

○ A tea without sugar, one bread roll and the bill, please.

■ The bill already? You do not have anything yet!

■ All right. Tea and a bread roll cost twenty-seven kroner.

He drops the exact money on the table and hurries to the door.

He climbs up onto his chair.

Findus jumps onto the man's table and grabs his pen.

▲ A cat! No, please!

▲ The bill! Quickly, please!

■ twenty-seven kroner, please.

▲ Here you are. Thank you. Goodbye!

■ He is afraid of cats.

○ What is his name?

■ His nickname is Tea without sugar.

○ And his pen?

■ Findus has it now.

Under table 3, Findus lies on his back with the pen between his paws. On the table: the exact money, to the cent.
