Translation

A Saturday morning in spring at Maria's. Rain runs down the living-room window.

It's Saturday. It's raining outside, and it's very cold.

Sofia is sitting at the window. She's ten. Today she's not happy.

- Grandma, why is it raining again? Today Anna and I want to ride our bikes to the park!

Anna is Sofia's best friend from school. She has a little puppy.

○ By bike? Not today, Sofia. It's too cold. And it's windy outside.

■ But I've got a raincoat! I don't need the sun!

○ You've got a raincoat. But the bike hasn't.

○ Today you can draw, or help me. I'm making pancakes.

The landlady's phone rings. It is Elena, Sofia's mother, calling from work.

▲ Hi, Sofia. I'm sorry, I'm working again today. Until this evening.

■ Again? Mum, you're always working! Even on Saturday!

▲ I know. But I have to help people. Are you and Grandma making pancakes?

■ Yes. Mum, come this evening! There are lots of pancakes.

In the kitchen, Sofia draws the sea, the sun and sand.

■ Look, Grandma! Every summer the whole family goes to the sea.

■ It's hot there, and Mum doesn't work. She's with us all day!

■ In the morning we swim. The sea is colder than the lake, but I'm not afraid.

■ I can swim better than Mum!

○ And your brother?

- He's still too little. He can't swim. He just eats sand!
- After lunch we build a sandcastle. A bigger one every summer!
- In the evening it's windy by the sea, so Mum always says: 'Sofia, your hat! And your jacket!'
- Your mum is right. In the evening by the sea you need warm clothes.
- But I'm never cold by the sea!
- Never? Last year you were as blue as the sea!
- I wasn't! Well... only a little.

Sofia turns the page and draws a small brown dog with big ears.

- Grandma, look: a puppy! Like Anna's. I really want a puppy!
- A puppy? And Milo? Milo doesn't like dogs.
- Milo lives here. And the puppy can live in our flat!
- And who looks after it? Your parents work, and you're at school.
- I know how to look after animals! I look after Milo every day!
- No, Sofia. Milo looks after you.

On the windowsill the grey tomcat opens one eye, looks at the drawing of the dog, and turns his back on it.

- Mum says: 'A dog needs time, and I don't have time.'
- That's true. Your mum works a lot, that's why she's tired.
- That's why I want to be a painter. A painter works at home and can look after a puppy!
- A painter? Not a teacher, like your grandma?
- No! Teachers always say 'later'.
- I never say 'later'. I say: 'Now!'

Afternoon. The rain stops, and the sun comes out over the wet roofs.

- Grandma, the sun! Can I ride my bike now?
- You can. But with a hat and a scarf, because it's still cold outside.
- Anna! The sun's out! Come to the park with the puppy!

Evening. Elena comes into the kitchen, tired, with a wet umbrella.

- Mum! In the morning there was rain, then sun. And Anna's puppy is my friend now!
- ▲ And you want a puppy again, don't you?
- Yes. But in summer, by the sea! A puppy is better off there than in town.

▲ Maybe, Sofia. Maybe.

Milo looks at the puppy in Sofia's sketchbook. He doesn't like it at all.
