Translation

Tuesday morning. Tonio puts a sheet of paper on your desk, in five coloured stripes.

- Good morning. Here's your week. One day, one colour.
- Monday is blue, Tuesday green, Wednesday yellow, Thursday red and Friday white.
- Very nice! And what's this, on Thursday at ten?
- There's a meeting with the boss, every Thursday. Always with coffee, never with tea.
- We have lunch at half past twelve. Always.
- Always? Never at one?

He counts the days on his fingers.

- Never. On Monday I have soup, on Tuesday fish, on Wednesday soup, on Thursday fish and on Friday soup.
- And on Saturday and Sunday?
- At the weekend I have eggs. And you, what do you usually have for lunch?

○ I have soup and bread... and cake.

■ Cake for lunch? Every day?

○ Not every day. Only sometimes.

○ And what's this, on Friday at four?

■ At sixteen hundred, not at four. That's the cat check.

○ A cat check? Are there cats in the office?

■ No. Not yet.

○ Then why a cat check?

■ Because you live at number 7. And the cat from number 7 goes everywhere.

The last line on Friday: "16:00 Cat check." "Are there cats in the office?" "Not yet."
